

Fun time at home

HOME LEARNING Activities

- Hands On Activities
- Rhymes
- And More

Parent toddler program – A program specially designed to engage parents and toddlers with lots of fun filled activities through recorded videos and home learning activities.

Note to Parents:

- Organize every activity in neat pouches & trays.
- Ensure easy accessibility for the child to encourage independent learning.
- Allow the child to choose. These activities can be repeated too. Encourage routines and procedures around pack-up and clean-up.

If I cannot learn the way you teach me, teach me the way I can learn.

Dear parents,

To encourage creativity and imaginative play along with skill-based learning, here are some hands on activity suggestions for the week. Encourage the child to do a minimum of 2 per day.

Guide To A Child's Emotional Milestones

How to identify emotional milestones for your child

'Oh! Your child is so shy, is he/she an introvert?' A question you might have often faced from strangers at a social gathering where your child refused to even look up when someone asked, 'What's your name?' There is absolutely no need to get embarrassed at the not-so-social behaviour of your toddler. A child branded as 'clingy or introverted' often grows up to a sensitive human being.

Rather than getting affected by stray remarks or letting your own anxieties take over, it may be a good idea to remember that while every child is unique, most human babies show similar patterns of development. What seems to be the most dominant expression for a two-year-old, will gradually turn into something else by the time your child is three.

There is no dearth of handy reading material out there that could help you sail through the difficult initial years of parenting with regards to identifying milestones. But here is a ready reckoner for you, just in case:

Being a parent to a 1-2-year-old is physically demanding. Your child will be curious and energetic, but he depends on an adult's presence for reassurance and needs a lot of attention. You can look out for the following signs:

- Shows separation anxiety
- Refuses to share
- Imitates a lot
