COWORK

INTRODUCTION

Coworking is a style of work that involves a shared working space. Unlike other organizations, those co-working aren't from the same organization. It is a booming concept which not only aids those who are looking for cost effective working spaces, but also helps in growing networks and building a community of driven and productive individuals.

ADITED provides a co-working space which is one of a kind. Along with our bundle of amenities, we also provide in-house graphic designing and digital marketing services. This would help in growing the business of those who need these services and create a brand identity of their own.

ADITORS & ADITORY

Anyone and everyone who is a part of ADITED, is an ADITOR. Aditors get to be a part of a very productive community of like minded peers. The workspace where they co-work is called an ADITORY. The Aditory is inhabited by these driven individuals.
